The following observations were made in the city area of Vilnius (54°38'N/ 25°15'E), Baltic LD, between 1945 and March 1949.

1. Barracks near the castle ruin: last observed to be occupied by component units of the 4th Inf Div in March 1949 (P/L labor detail was called up as "detail for 4th Inf Div").
  - a. Older troops and recruits were seen in the barracks.
  - b. The units, equipped with light infantry weapons, were in the barracks only from early November to mid-April. (See No 1 on Annex).
2. Barracks (4 four-story, 100 x 3 x 20-meter brick buildings and an athletic field) at the northern city exit: Occupied by a tank unit. Tanks were observed at the training field east of the barracks and, in early November 1948, when assembling for a review. * (See No 2 on Annex).
3. Old Barracks east of the confluence of the Vilnelė and the Neris Rivers: Called "Infantry School" among the P/L labor detail was called up as "Detail for Infantry School". The barracks had been reconstructed by early 1949 but not occupied. (See No 3 on Annex).
4. Military post headquarters south of the cathedral: Marked by a signboard reading "Military post headquarters", written in Russian and Lithuanian. (See No 4 on annex).
5. a. Northern section of the barracks, about 600 meters north of the castle ruin and east of the stadium: Used as storage site for apparently now and complete radio installations. Radio trucks and canvas-covered transmitter and receiving sets. (See No 5a on Annex).
  - b. Southern section of the barracks: Variably occupied by troops. Horses in stables, horse-drawn vehicles, stocks of harnesses, etc. were observed there. (See No 5b on Annex).
6. Storage site in the SE city sector: about fifty 88-mm AA guns were observed there in March 1949. A small repair shop, designated by Soviet soldiers as "Motor Vehicle Repair Shop No 2, bordered on the AA gun storage site. (See No 6 on Annex).
